As the strument of oppression in the hands of their successive rulers, its destruction has not deep enlisted their sympathies, or alarmed their fears. Our army has afforded them better protection than their own; and thus, by our presence and our forbearance, they have, within certain limits, hitherto escaped exactions from either. But our successes have now opened the way to act upon and influence those who probably can, if they will, put an end to hostilities. By making them suffer the usual calamities of war, they must be made to desire

"In addition to the troops required to garrison places to be retained, it is proposed to have in the field a competent force for aggressive operations-to strike the enemy whenever he may present a vulnerable point; to open avenues from the ports in our possession into the enemy's country, and to cover and subject to our control some of his rich mining districts and productive agricultural regions. It is not deemed proper to point out in more detail the movements and objects contemplated in the further prosecution of the war upon this plan."

From the Cincinnati Daily Times, of 20th May. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.-We would advise our readers who are laboring under an affection of the lungs, to make immediate trial "There is Young in every line of it, such of this truly excellent medicine. The most intelligent and respectable families of our city have adopted it as a favorite family medicine; and persons predisposed to Consumption, who have used it, speak in the highest terms of its efficacy.

Scores of individuals have been cured of Asthma, the early stages of Consumption, bleeding of the lungs, obstinate coughs, etc., by this Balsam, after hope had well nigh vielded to despair. We say this in all candor. It is indeed a melancholy truth that thousands fall victims to Consumption every year, from no other cause than neglected Colds; yet we find hundreds and thousands, who treat such complaints with the greatest indifference, and let them run on for weeks, and even clined upwards since this day week. My stables are situated on the corner of Priness and Third-streets, directly opposite the Courtlouse, and very convenient to the business part of the town. They are built of brick, and covered with tin, which makes them entirely fire-proof. They are large, commodious, and well constructed; and in every respect as comfortable and convenient as any Stables in the United States. I also have, (for the accommodation of Drovers, large and comfortable Lot, together with a basement under the Stables sufficient to held one hundred horses, and shelter them well and comfortably.
